

Libraries of Oregon

librariesoforegon.org

Libraries of Oregon

Libraries of Oregon is a website that connects Oregon residents to statewide library resources and local public libraries. You can access databases that house articles, video clips, podcasts, and images from encyclopedias, newspapers, and magazines or use the 24/7 ask-a-librarian service to satisfy your information needs. This project is a joint effort by the Oregon State Library and the Oregon State University Libraries and is paid with federal Library Services and Technology Act (LSTA) funds.

<http://librariesoforegon.org>

